

Locaxion Releases AirVue Golf V1.1

New Features and Exciting Capabilities for Golfers

San Jose, CA – May 4, 2009 – Locaxion today announced the launch and availability of AirVue Golf™ V1.1. AirVue Golf is a revolutionary GPS satellite rangefinder software, giving golfers satellite images of their course and accurate yardage information directly on their iPhone™ 3G.

“Locaxion is very excited to see the success of AirVue Golf v1.0. We enjoy listening to what golfers have to say about what they like and what they need,” said Froi Lomotan, Co-founder, Locaxion. “We listened to what golfers told us and with AirVue Golf V1.1, gave them a way to create their favorite course list for faster access. AirVue Golf V1.1 also gives our customers the ability to store images and yardage information on their iPhone so they can enjoy the power of AirVue Golf even at courses with poor cell coverage.”

“I really enjoy using AirVue Golf. I like being able to access any course without ever connecting to a computer,” said Ken Schulz, avid golfer and AirVue Golf V1.0 user. “I also regularly golf at courses where there is poor cell coverage and AirVue Golf V1.1 still gives me the freedom to access any course, but adds the extra convenience of pre-loading all course information on my iPhone when I play at courses with poor cell coverage.”

- Save course information on your iPhone: Locally store yardage data and satellite imagery on your iPhone, in order to continue using all the functionality of AirVue Golf even at courses with poor or no cell network coverage.
